THE MAC

McGRAW CENTRAL SCHOOL

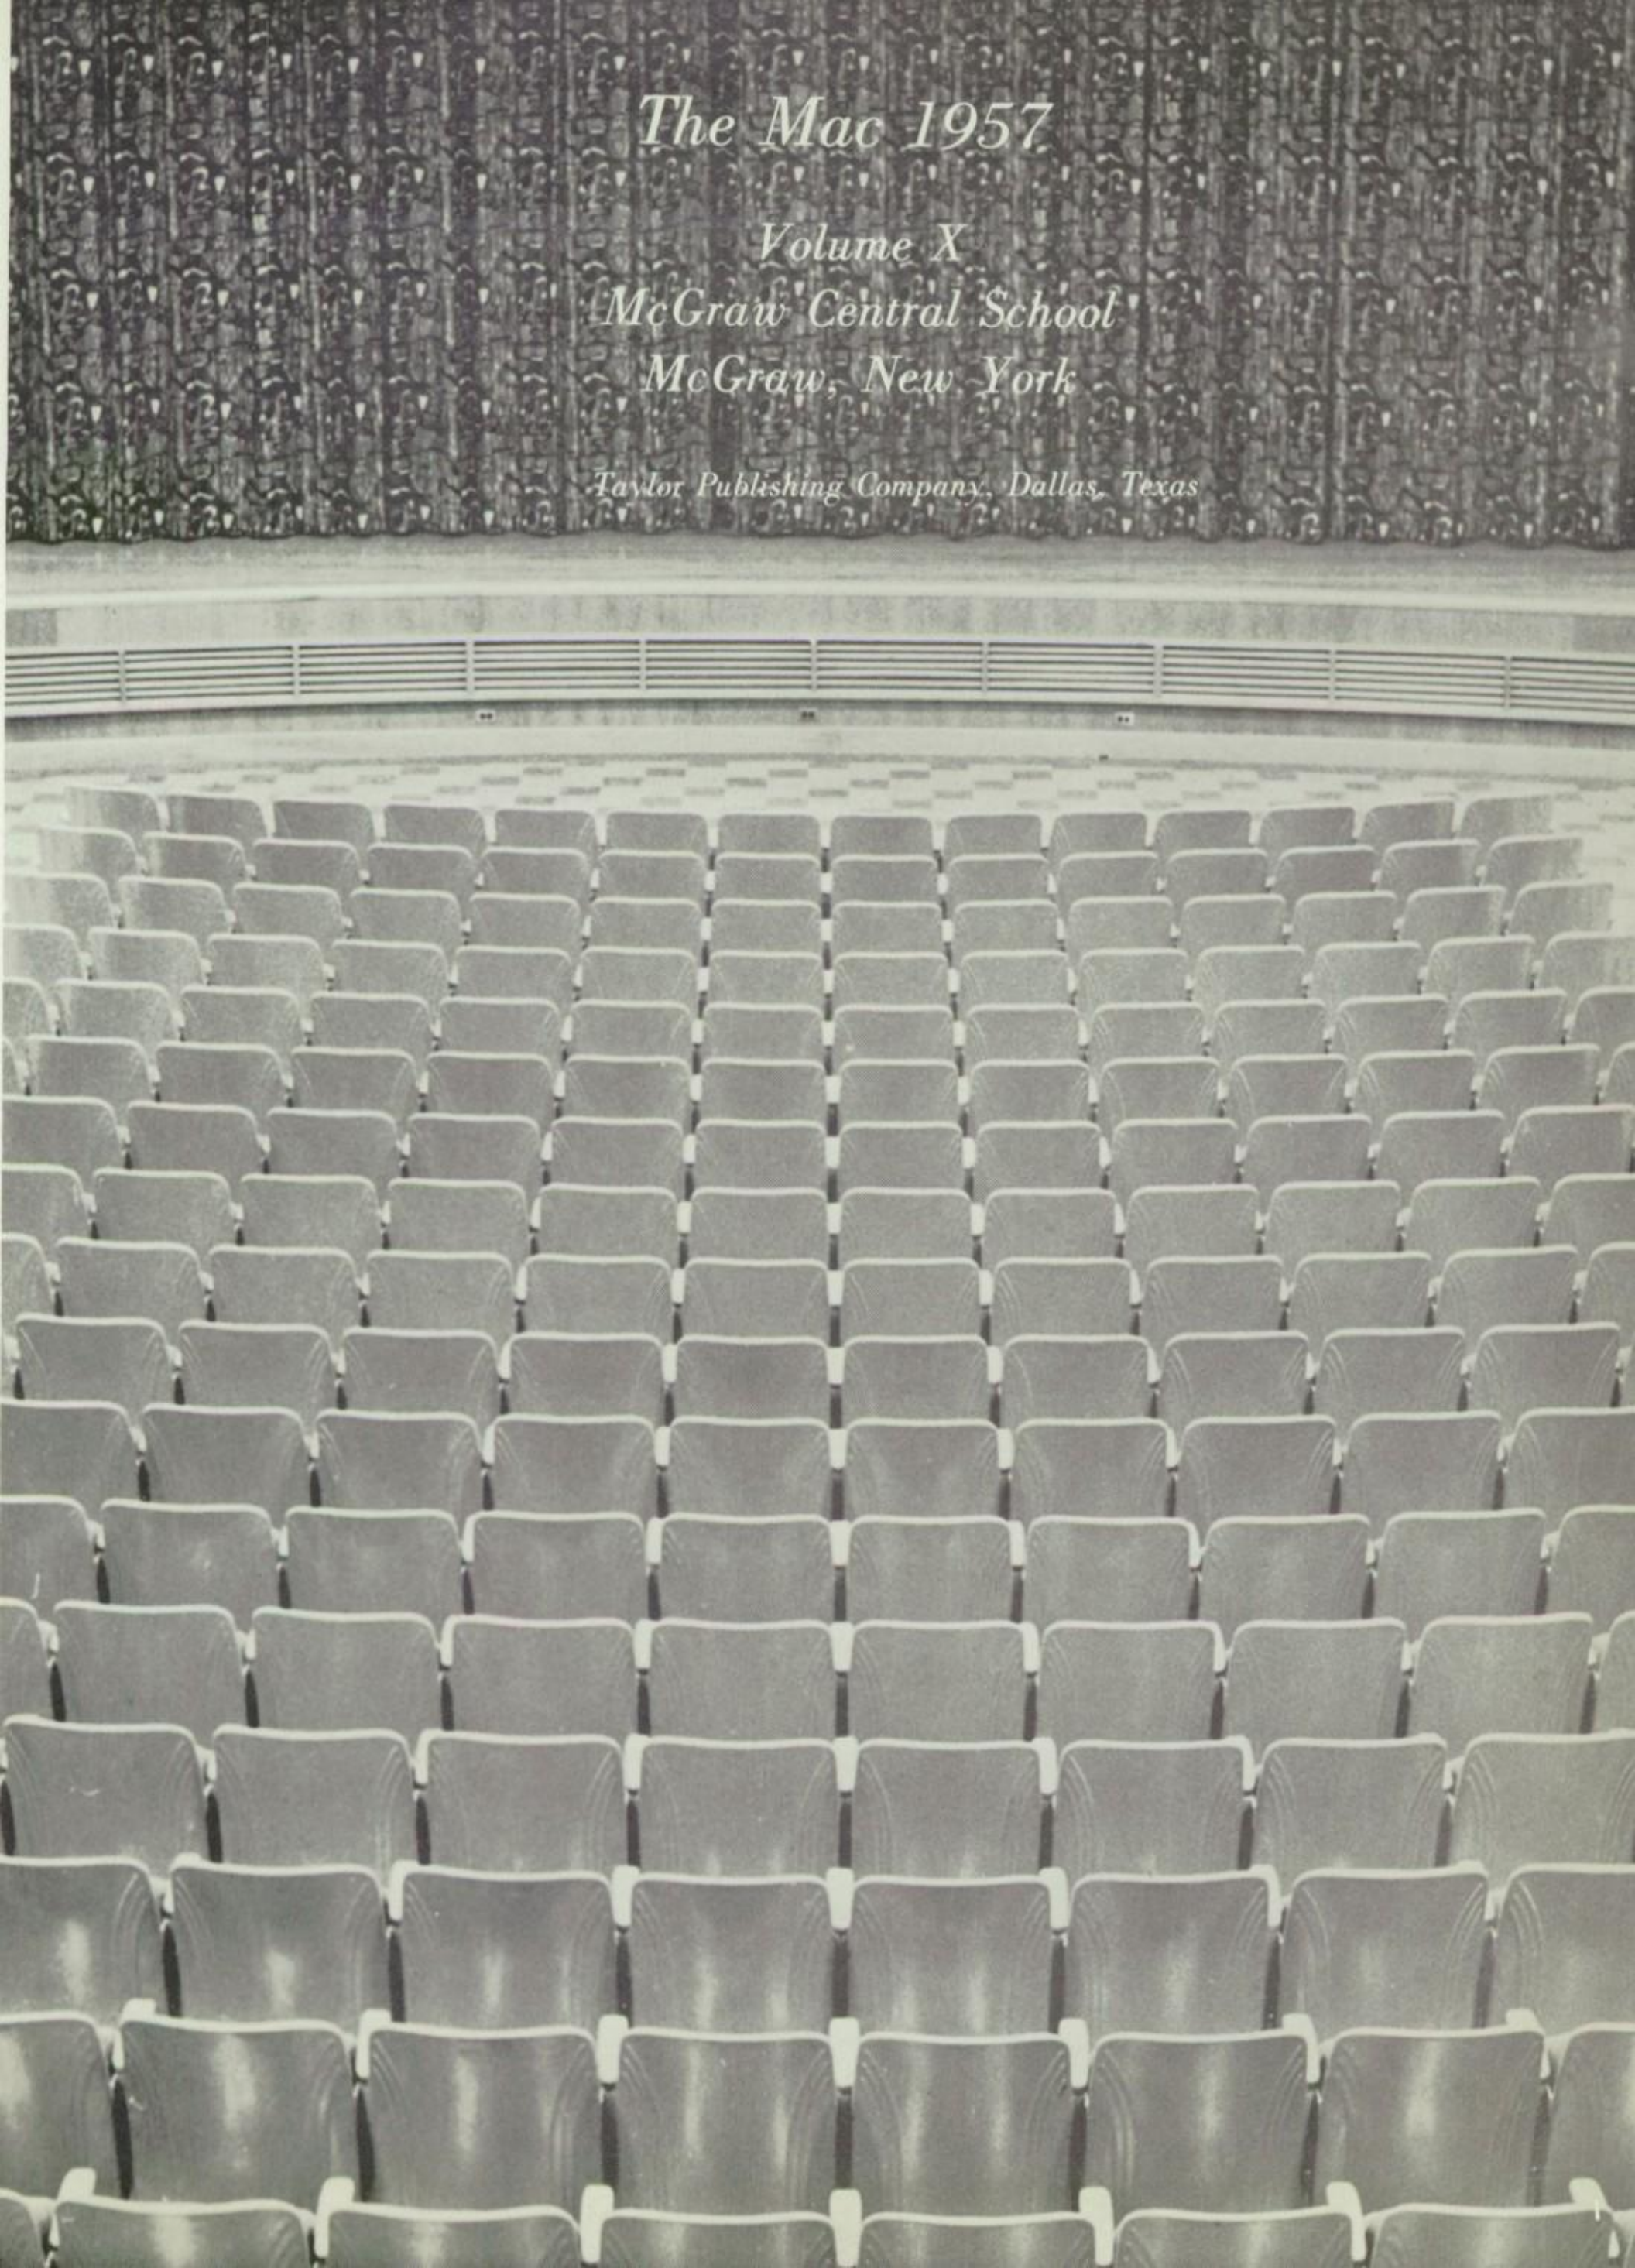
The Mac 1957

Volume X

McGraw Central School

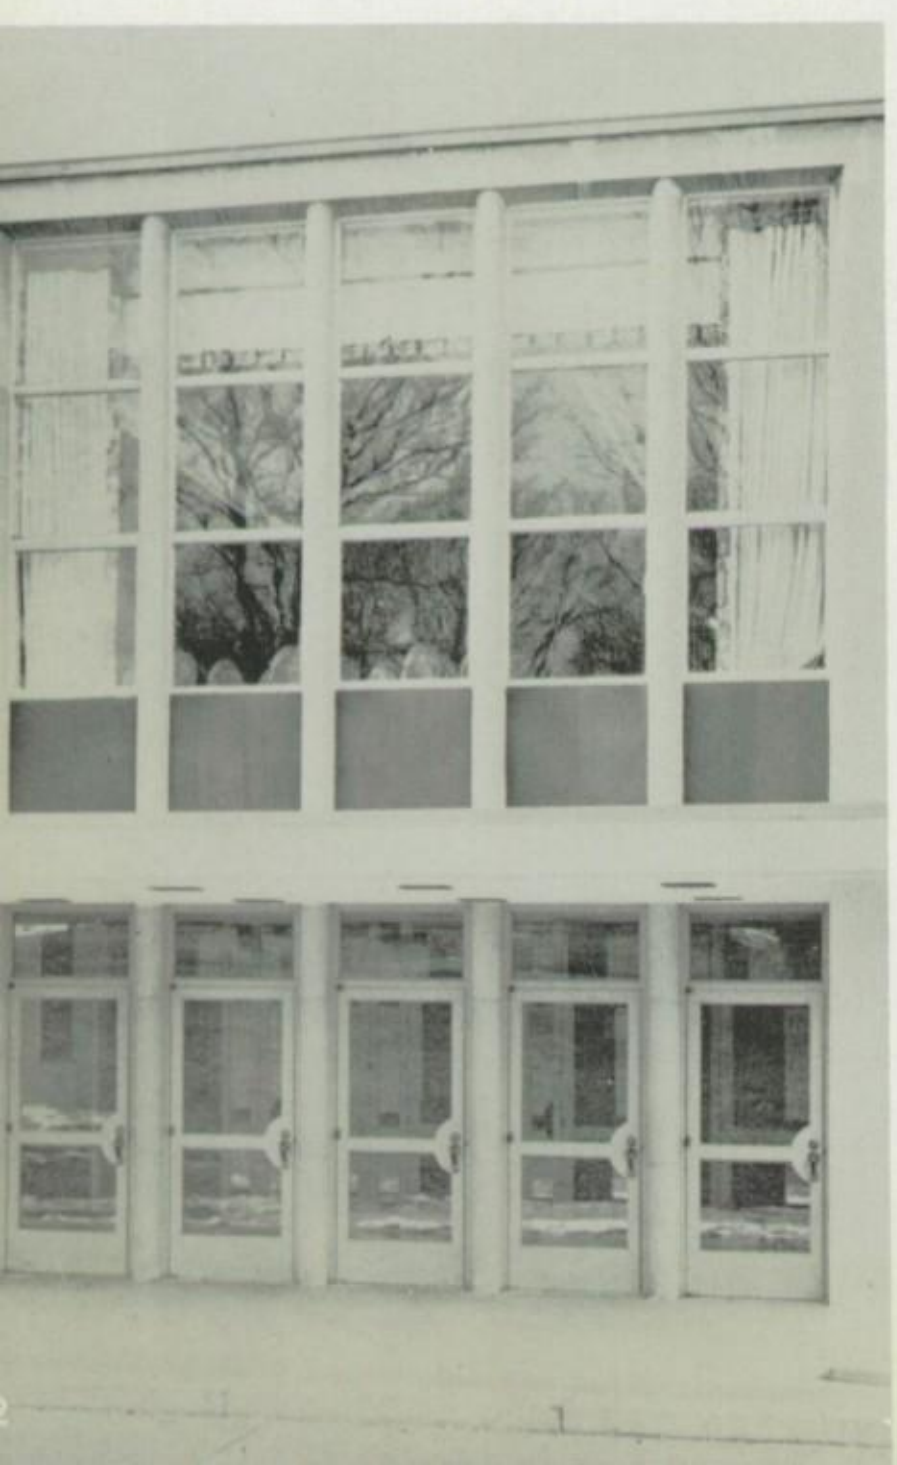
McGraw, New York

Taylor Publishing Company, Dallas, Texas



Foreword

The '57 "Mac" is a Tenth Anniversary edition paying tribute to the progress made during the first decade of yearbooks edited by our students. As the rapid changes have affected our school system, they also have affected the type of yearbook published for the community. Each year's theme has indicated the stage of school progress since 1948. The first theme was centered around the Senior Class; the '49 theme was "The Forty Niners"; in 1950 the Seniors once again were the central subject; in '51, an "Anniversary Edition of School Centralization"; in '52 "Educational Progress Through Construction"; in '53, "Changing From the Old to the New"; in '54, "Finishing Touches"; in '55, "Our School Reflects Our Town"; and in '56, "Time Marches On." We see too, that vast changes in the size, paper, and covers of our "Mac" have come about in the same period. From a simple paper cover, we have advanced to the more modern padded cover. The paper in our recent yearbooks is glossy, replacing the rougher style and enabling us to improve the type of printing. The first yearbook had forty-eight pages whereas today we have ninety-six—thus we have doubled our size in ten years. During this same time as a result of the rapid growth of the school curriculum and extracurricular activities, changes such as the Yearbook Club itself, necessitated more space in "The Mac." As was seen in the '48, '49 and '50 editions, the Yearbook had been a money-making project of the Senior Class. Today, it is a high school club.



Our theme this tenth year correlates closely with our division pages and there one will find a replica of each year's book. After ten editions, we feel it is now time to pause and review these accomplishments before stepping into a new decade. It is always a wise practice to contemplate the next maneuver with a deep feeling of hope and with an urge to make the best even better—and in remembrance of the foundation laid by our predecessors, we share with you a feeling of accomplishment in completing the first decade of Yearbooks presented by the students of McGraw Central School.

Dedication

We, the Yearbook club of 1957, wish to dedicate the tenth anniversary edition of "The Mac" to Mrs. Muriel Hulbert. Prior to her present position as Mr. Baer's secretary and Clerk of the Board, Mrs. Hulbert taught French and Commercial subjects in our school. She makes a memorable impression on all visitors as she greets them with a cheerful smile. Keeping the office records, making out report cards, and handling the school mail are a few of the many tasks in her busy schedule. She also finds time to relay phone messages to all parts of the building. Mrs. Hulbert pleasantly assists teachers and students with a cheerful smile and somehow she never seems to find it too much trouble to help us all. And this is one way we say "thank you, Mrs. Hulbert" as we dedicate the 1957 "Mac" to you.

Administration

Over a period of ten years many changes usually occur in any business, profession or worthwhile institution. The schools are no exception to the rule and McGraw school and the schools of the surrounding area have experienced in this development. We soon become so accustomed to changes that we forget the past as we look forward to the new and better things ahead. However, if we look back over the past ten years and review some of the changes that have taken place in the schools of the McGraw Central School area we will see that much progress has been made. A few of the big changes, of course, are centralization, the bond issue for the addition and alteration of the building, the closing of six of the seven rural schools, building the bus garage and equipping it, and the establishment of the transportation system. Each year we make many reports to the State Education Department which include reports on expenditures, teaching personnel, salaries, the educational program being carried out, attendance and budget. If you compared the reports of ten years ago with those of today you would note a number of differences that indicate the amount of progress that has been made. Ten years ago 23 teachers carried the responsibility of educating the 475 boys and girls of the present central school area. Today we have an enrollment of 675 pupils with 35 teachers doing the job. The highest paid teacher ten years ago was receiving just under $2500; today the highest is a little over $5000. The budget for the McGraw school was $56,315; this year's budget for the central school was $330,591. The tax rate on assessed valuation ten years ago in the McGraw school was $18.87 and this year it was $28.00. The following services have been added to the instructional program: Agriculture, Homemaking, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Art, full-time Girls' Physical Education, and Driver Education, as well as additional courses in mathematics. The cafeteria program was also developed and the adult education program was new in this era. Janitorial and clerical have been increased as the result of growth. These and many other changes indicate ten years of progress. What changes will the next years bring forth that the boys and girls of today and in the future will be better educated to meet the problems of their time?

Mr. Baer is working with Richard Osborne on his schedule for next year. Dick's only one of the high school students with whom Mr. Baer plans courses of study.

The council is composed of two representatives of each class from grades seven through twelve. The meetings are held during the eighth period on the first Monday of each month. This year our council was host to the councils from other central schools of the county. Under the able chairmanship of Ray Owen, a very profitable meeting was held. Two film strips about student government were shown, followed by an exchange of ideas among the students. Another project this year was that of providing a spectator bus for league basketball games played away from home. Many students took advantage of this opportunity, for a full load signed up for the five games. Besides these two activities, the council continues to help plan the assembly programs and to help solve other problems for the good of the school.

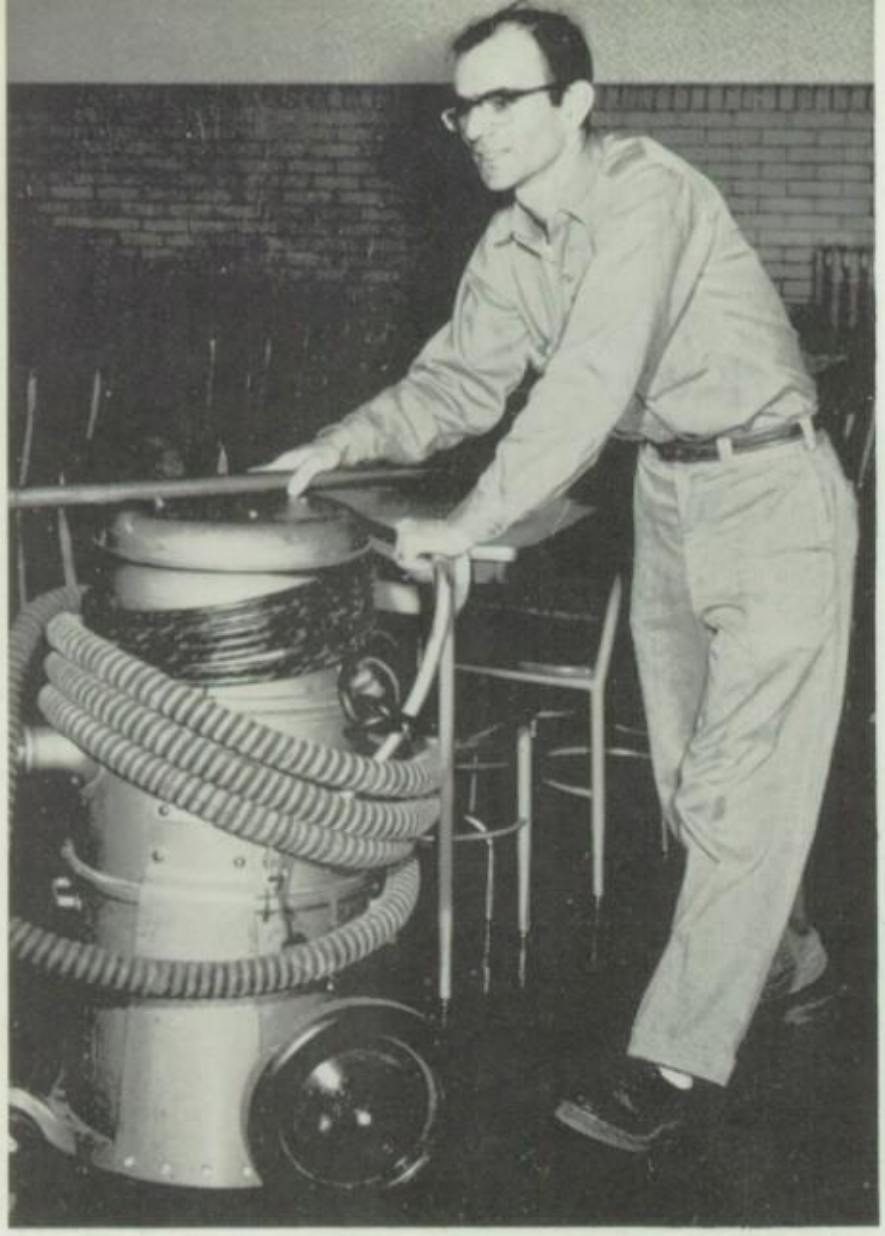
School Personnel

Mrs. Muriel Hulbert, our office secretary, in addition to regular office routine, cheerfully lends a hand in assisting students with their problems. Here she is helping Charlotte Smith fill out her working papers.

Mrs. Johnson, our school nurse, is a newcomer this year at McGraw. Taking the temperature of students is one way she checks their health. Here Sheila Gardner is the patient.

In addition to all her tasks, the nurse gives audiometer tests. This shows: Donald Perkins, Donald Hartley, Richard Atkins, Christine Semeraro, and Richard Amer in Mrs. Russell's first grade.



Our Custodians

Robert Warfield is our school's Head Custodian

Our Garage Mechanic

Everett Rulison's in charge of the bus garage and is kept plenty busy maintaining our eight buses and three station wagons in good running condition. Besides all our bus problems he also teaches an adult education class.

The Bus Drivers

Ten years ago there wasn't a cafeteria as we know it today. When the system was set up, less than 100 students were served. Today we have a cafeteria, with a manager and two assistant managers, that serves over 350 students.

The automatic dishwasher does most of the work but dishes still have to be dried.

Watch that slicer, Russell, and don't let the girls distract you!

Classes

The twenty-seven members of the Senior Class have been enjoying to the fullest extent the trials and tribulations of their last year of high school.

The first project, in the fall, was the Senior Play, and the actual production necessitated much hard work and ingenious planning. Backstage antics produced small scale riots at times but nevertheless, the small amount of "trouper" in each of us came to the fore and "Crime Photographer" was a success on November 15 and 16.

After the glamour of play preparations had worn off, we settled down to realism and tackled the difficult task of selling ads for the yearbook. We proved to be successful salesmen and went well over our quota.

When the advertising project was successfully completed, we once again turned to the lighter side of life and began preparations for our Senior Trip. With the thoughtful aid of Mr. Baer and Mrs. Nellenback, we planned our own schedule, and left for six glorious days of care-free travel. The excitement and beauty of the world's largest city, plus the majesty of our nation's capital, will remain with us throughout the years.

With the trip over, we started preparing for graduation. Coupled with the planning for the formal ceremony lay the actual scholastic work to be completed before we could receive our diplomas. The class chose as their colors, blue and silver; their flower, the blue pom-pom; and their motto, "The reward of a thing well done is to have done it."

Planning for the senior trip is a highlight! Mr. Baer's working out a schedule with Genevieve, Jean and Ray for New York and Washington. So little time and so much to see, no wonder they look serious.

President, Gerald Osborne; Vice President, Robert Reynolds; Treasurer, Clifford Allen; Secretary, Sharon Connelly; Student Council, Sandra Bement; Advisors, Mrs. Anthony, Mr. Whitebread.

Carol Bilodeau, Martin Dako, Douglas Brown, and Dianne Hall are discussing their class's primary project of the year, their pencil sales. Besides selling refreshments at the basketball games, this is their only chance as Sophomores to raise money for that long-dreamed of Senior trip—only two years away.

Citizenship Education

Here are the Seniors, conducting a panel discussion on the New York State Court System in AMERICAN HISTORY class. They appear to be taking the matter very seriously as they listen to Richard Stafford, the moderator, summing up the "pros" and "cons." This is a project that they are correlating with their regular studies and that they feel is important enough to spend time on during their last year. Others pictured on the panel are: Jack Mitchell, Mary Clark, Connie Christe, Richard Stafford, Pauline Briggs, Anne Bush, Walter Grant.

English

Science

ames Ferris, Gary Beiter, and Marion Towers are shown working on an xperiment with the element carbon and its properties in CHEMISTRY.

This is a typical picture of two of the CHEMISTRY class' most curious "scientists," Carole Berean and Janice Van Epps. In this picture they are shown preparing an experiment on carbon that Janice is putting into a test tube. Carole is reading the list of articles that will be needed for the experiment. By the way, Janice is our one and only post-graduate student.

Mathematics

Velma Kelley and Norman Allen are intently watching Richard Stafford as he points out some of the characteristics of the trigonometric functions. There were eight Seniors who took this course in TRIGONOMETRY the first semester. During the second semester ADVANCED ALGEBRA was offered and seven Seniors were enrolled, thus completing four years of mathematics.

Latin

In LATIN I, prior to tests, pupils sometimes have a few minutes in which they may review before the test begins. In this particular picture, Larry Wales is asking a question. Other students are: Anna Harris, (standing) Robert Parkin, Carole Pettet, Charles Card, Barbara McIntosh, Judy Hotchkiss.

Business Education

The members of the BOOKKEEPING class are taught how to keep books and hope to come out with a profit. Their knowledge in this subject will help them in keeping their own accounts later.

Mr. Brown acts as referee in LAW class defending Bill in a court order from Gladys Allen, Rosalee Turner, and Jean Belknap who're disagreeing.

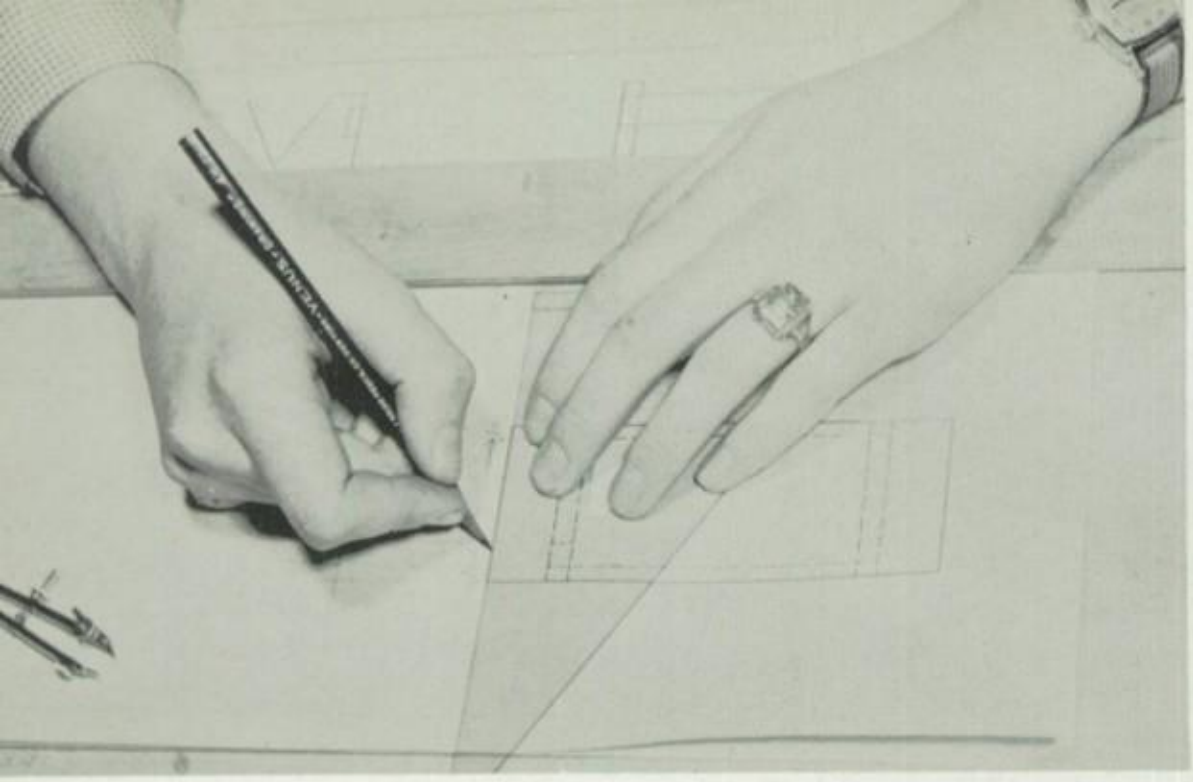
Ten years ago we didn't have any such thing as the Krooked Korner Store where students could buy their school supplies. With the help of the commercial teacher and cooperation of the students, the store got a good start in 1950.

This picture shows some of our busy salesmen reaping the harvest of their efforts—the profit from the store. It is operated by all of the members of the salesmanship class so that they might gain practical experience along with their classroom work. The members hope to use the profits for a trip to Syracuse or for some other worthwhile project.



Art

These hands quite adequately express the thought and accuracy that must be used in order to render a mechanical drawing "well done."

General Art

This year's class has an added attraction—clay. Connie Christe is shown patiently making a bowl, the first project in getting used to properly working the clay. A kiln for baking the clay has been recently purchased, and the project is enthusiastically accepted by the class.

Music

Mrs. Gros' sixth grade Calypso Band, seated from left to right: Sally Jo Massingill, maracas; Mrs. Gros, autoharp. Standing: Lee Bement, claves; Marilyn Bilodeau, claves; Robin Barnes, maracas; Dale Watrous, giuro; Dudley Shore, Bongo Drum.

The P.T.A. appropriated money this year to buy tonettes for the fourth graders for pre-instrumental instructional training. Mr. McGrady's shown demonstrating its use.

Library

Mrs. Helen Cross, School Librarian, is shown with a group of kindergarteners who are intently concentrating on one of their favorite animal story books. At least twice a week, they are fortunate in having a story-time and at the same time become acquainted with the LIBRARY.

Driver Education

The hilarious comedy, "Crime Photographer," by Stephen Bristol begins when wealthy and retired Sumner Powdrell disappears from his home in the middle of the night. This happens shortly after Tony Marchant is ordered out of the house by Sumner Powdrell because of Tony's determination to marry Sumner's niece, Glory. As the plot unfolds many exciting incidents take place, with Casey, Crime Photographer, and Captain Logan of the Homicide Bureau disagreeing on the cause. The play was produced by special arrangement with Samuel French.

This picture is of the Sewing Class with their instructor, Mrs. Kathleen Bonsteel helping Mrs. Mary Bickford with a problem. The other women intently watching are Mrs. Ruth Natoli, Mrs. Norva Ossit, Miss Vivian Atkins, and Mrs. Leona Snyder. With their instructor's assistance, the women have made blouses, skirts, aprons, and dresses.

Adult Education

Watching their instructor, Mr. Everett Rulison, weld with an Oxygen-Acetylene torch are Sam Parks, Clifford Lapp, and Robert Abdallah. During their classtime, the men have practiced welding and cutting with Oxygen-Acetylene torches and the Electric Arc Welder in the school bus garage.

One of the Adult Education classes is for the Hungarian refugees who have settled in our community. Mr. Krauklis (at the left) is working with Mr. and Mrs. Dako and their son, Martin, on the program of Americanization.

McGraw Central School's Rifle team was organized in 1947-48, just ten years ago, under the supervision of Leroy Baer, Coach. The range in the Village Hall was used during the first year. During the next school year, we built the range in the school under the old gym. In 1954, we moved into the present range in the new building. These pages show the progress the team has made.
